Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by USP 6224769 to Hasegawa. Hasegawa describes a device in which bacteria are enzymatically solubilized in vessel 10. Thereafter, the organic products of solubilization are fed to a biological reactor in which bacteria use the products to grow. Lysis of cells is inherent in such a solubilization process.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is unclear what structural elements are limiting of claim 6 that do not limit device claim 8. Claim 6 appears to further limit a method of using a device, but claim 8 (the claim from which claim 6 ostensibly depends) is not directed to a method of using a device: It is directed to a device.

Objection is made to claim 6 under 35 USC Sec 112, fourth paragraph, for failure to further limit the scope of device claim 8.

Claim 7 is allowed.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
